Dear Steindl,

Thank you very much for your letter and your Christmas card. My health deteriorated a little during the Autumn. Now I have improve somewhat but have not reached yet the state of September when I felt very well. In connexion with this I dropped my plan of giving a course of lectures in Rome in this academic year.

I am not exactly cheerful but try to keep myself busy by writing a little <sup>and</sup> dealing with translation of my books, republication of my old articles etc.

Did you get used to your new office? How is proceeding your work on wealth and income distribution?

With best wishes for a Happy New Year from myself and Ada

Yours affectionately
M. Kalecki
