

27.3. I think the paragraphs on profit taxes ought to be expanded, perhaps even into a small paper.

It is necessary to clear up further the question of workers' worry.

But also there is the importance of the taxable minimum.

The whole tax is not linear, especially proportional.

the regression (correlation) is dominated by the mass of "cases" in the corner of the quadrant!

This will always be true where the distributions are concerned.

It would be important to have a more-dimensional law (distribution law) which covers the whole range.
